What do we mean by More to Value?

Value is so much more than a price tag. Great value gives you more of the things you actually value. Like time away with the family, an exciting new addition to the weekly dinner plan or a surprise when you need it most. And you value your food. Real food. Fresh food. Quality that speaks for itself. So, we'll always value giving you great value. Local suppliers growing fantastic produce and award winners stocking your kitchen cupboards. Just great food, at Lidl prices.

Quality without compromise is More to Value.

We've always done everything we can to give our customers the highest possible quality at the lowest possible prices. It's one of the reasons we won at this year's Grocer Gold Awards 2025. Part of a long line of awards that make us proud to be recognised as a retailer that puts value first, without ever compromising on quality.

Fresh from stalk to store is More to Value.

Real food. Fresh food. That's what we value most. And as Fresh Produce Retailer of the Year, we take our greens very, very seriously. It's why we stand by our Fresh Promise – a simple commitment to quality. Our specially trained freshness experts check our produce from field to aisle, so if you're not happy with our fruit & veg, we'll give you every penny back.

Daily bakes that don't break the bank is More to Value.

That fresh from the oven smell is something we all value. And everyone values a little treat now and then.

It's why our in-store bakeries work daily to produce oven-fresh breads, pastries, cakes and loaves.

It's nice to know we're valued too, because you've voted us the UK's Number 1 Supermarket Bakery. That's worth raising some toast to.

Backing British is More to Value.

British produce. From British farms. Grown by British farmers. We'll always support homegrown produce, which is why we've invested over £21 billion across the British food and farming industry over the last 5 years. We're proud to supply households across Britain with British dairy, fruit, veg, meat, eggs and more, and extra proud of our long-standing partnerships with hundreds of farmers across the British Isles as well as with RSPCA Assured and the Red Tractor Assurance Scheme.
